

6. On the two superimposed maps of Washington State shown below, construct the unique point which represents the same position on each of the maps. Explain your construction. Prove that your constructed point has this property. You may use the fact that the small map is a 50% reduction of the large map.

Washington

