

Points on a Plane

In the figure below, points A' , B' , and C' are the orthogonal projections onto the xy -plane of points A , B , and C , respectively. Construct the plane through points A , B , and C by constructing the x , y , and z intercepts of the plane.

