

SCCANS

Shoreline Community College Association of Nursing Students

What is SCCANS?

SCCANS is the Shoreline Community College Association of Nursing Students. It is a student-led organization for past, current, and future nursing students at Shoreline Community College in Seattle, Washington. Every student enrolled in the Shoreline Nursing Program is automatically a member of SCCANS. In addition to providing a supportive network for incoming and current nursing students, SCCANS provides opportunities for students to become involved in community outreach and fundraising, as well as to participate with nursing instructors in several committees that directly affect our SCC nursing community and curriculum.

*SCCANS is a chartered organization recognized by Shoreline Community College.
