Reading of Minutes and Comments

- Mark passed out minutes from 12-09-15 and they were approved as written
- Hyundai – Mark told the board that they have not followed through regarding a partnership with the college. We do not have access to their curriculum
- Hyundai has donated a Genesis and there is another car coming
- Snap-on – Mark attended an NC3 training in Phoenix and is now certified in Procut and Shop Key. Jeff Cromwell, one of our Toyota instructors, also went to a training and is certified in Torque training
- Introductory course – There has not been much progress. Mark Hankins is meeting next week with the manufacturing department to find out how their program works which may be how we can run ours
- The pre-auto classes will be called “On Ramp”
- Open House – We will be having an open house on December 1, in conjunction with Subaru’s Rally Car display
- The GST II program was approved last summer but new administration at the College has asked us to “slow down” and further evaluate – more discussion about this topic under GST II agenda topic

Intro

- Mark introduced Guy Hamilton, who is the dean of the Science Division. Automotive has been moved into the Science Division from the Workforce Division since the resignation of Dan Fey last spring.
- Michael Boehm is no longer the Director of automotive but he still working at the college and has moved back to the Workforce Division

Chairperson

- Instead of nominating a chairperson, Mark Hankins asked the Board if anyone would like to volunteer
- Kristina Kelley has volunteered to be the chairperson
Thank you, Kristina!

Student Placements Report

- Mark provided a list of students who have completed the program over that summarizes when they completed and where they are currently working

Lunch - 12:15

Partnerships

- We have a new partnership with Subaru. They had approached us last summer. Mark Hankins is working to integrate their online curriculum into the GST program
- Nissan approached us last summer about doing something similar (as Subaru) with the College. We are waiting for the next meeting to be scheduled
- Mazda has contacted us to rent space for local dealership training classes. It will be something similar to what we do with Raytheon/AC Delco

GST II

- We are taking another look at the GST II proposition and our Dean, Guy Hamilton will talk about it
- Guy explained that the State is developing a new funding model, based on domestic student enrollment, for community colleges state-wide.
- New model is very dependent upon enrollment over a three year time span
- Domestic students are our main funding source through the state reimbursement factor. Colleges will only be able to count a certain percentage of international students as full time state-funded students
- Our budget is secure for the next 2 years due to strategic planning and we are lucky because Edmonds Community College, for example, is cutting a million dollars a year
- Because of the new and developing state funding model, we are holding off on hiring for a Director and as mentioned earlier, the GST II program
- Automotive is considered one of the flagship programs for the college and we are working on a capital campaign to continue the expansion of the automotive department

- Guy asked the group:
Do we need GST II?
 - ❖ Kristina Kelley was disappointed to hear that GST II was not going to happen. She wants the students to have more education especially in the English skills and math department.
 - ❖ Tom Wilson was also disappointed in hearing that GST II was not happening. He also stated that more education is beneficial to the student and to the student
 - ❖ Lisa Reager expressed her desire to see the GST II program and that it would be ideal if it could be offered in the afternoon hours. She would like to have students working in her dealership in the morning and have them attend school in the afternoon.
- Everyone agreed that more education helps with clear thinking and writing
- Betsy Binnian's job in GST is to help the students to develop better learning and employment skills
- Phil Spagnoli said if the student is too educated they may become frustrated with the pay and want to move on
- Paul Svenkerud suggested that students could work part-time during the GST II program and perhaps eliminate the Internship quarter
General education classes are important to help students become more aware of the world, better writers, better thinkers and citizens
- Guy suggested that we consider a three quarter program and many thought that this could work.
- As the new funding model becomes more clear, we will continue to develop our ideas for the GST II or the expanded GST program (three on-campus quarters)

Next meeting

- Next meeting will be held in February or March of 2017. We will possibly hold a large combined programs meeting to discuss items and issues that are common to all of us and then break out into individual program meetings
- We will continue to research options for GST II

Meeting adjourned 1:30 p.m. Time was running short and we tabled agenda items that were not discussed until the next meeting
